Copyright Clearance Center Teams Up with HFA for Music Licensing on Copyright.com

Danvers, Mass. – Copyright Clearance Center, Inc. (CCC), a not-for-profit organization and leading provider of licensing and content solutions, is working with HFA, the nation's leading provider of rights management, licensing and royalty services for the music industry, to provide access to HFA's music licensing services through copyright.com.

HFA is the largest provider of licenses for physical and digital reproduction of music in the U.S., covering uses such as CDs, permanent digital downloads, interactive streaming and ringtones. CCC's existing offerings include millions of rights for in- and out-of-print books, journals, newspapers, magazines, movies, television shows, images, blogs and ebooks.

"It is increasingly important to make rights licensing for all types of content more easily accessible," said Roy Kaufman, Managing Director, New Ventures, CCC. "Our relationship with HFA further ensures our customers effortless access to the rights they need without interruption to their workflow."

"HFA is committed to enabling the licensing of copyrighted content, and working with CCC is a great opportunity to offer our streamlined music licensing solutions to a broad user base," said Lauren Apolito, Vice President of Strategy & Business Development at HFA.

About Copyright Clearance Center

Copyright Clearance Center (CCC), the rights licensing expert, is a global rights broker for the world's most sought-after materials, including in- and out-of-print books, journals, newspapers, magazines, movies, television shows, images, blogs and ebooks. Founded in 1978 as a not-for-profit organization, CCC provides smart solutions that simplify the access and licensing of content and let businesses and academic institutions get permission to use copyright-protected materials quickly, while compensating publishers and content creators for using their works.
